The Indiana University School of Social Work invites applications for an open-rank tenure-track position at the Bloomington campus. This position is a ten-month appointment with responsibility for teaching, research, and service. Successful candidates will be expected to teach face-to-face and online across the BSW and MSW curricula as well as occasional courses at IU-partner campus locations. The anticipated start date is August, 2016.

Essential qualifications include an earned doctorate in social work or a related field, an MSW degree from a CSWE-accredited program, and at least two years of post-MSW practice experience. Successful candidates should have a well-articulated research and publication agenda, as well as demonstrated interest in seeking external grants to support scholarly activities. Candidates for the title of Associate or Full Professor must demonstrate a history of external grants and scholarly publications to merit appointment at this level. Preference will be given to applicants who demonstrate teaching experience at the MSW and/or BSW level, including experience teaching in a generalist or foundation curriculum, and have a demonstrated interest in online and distance education delivery methods.

Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.
