Course Description:

This course will provide an orientation to community based practice as an educational program in the School of Social Work as developed by our Community Based Initiative and National Community Scholars Program. It will examine core concepts, practice methods, curricular competencies and course content, including the CBI and NCS as a special programs for building capacity and creating change at the community level in.

Seminar Objectives:

Upon completion of the seminar, students will be able to:

- Understand basic concepts of community based practice.
- Discuss community participation and social well-being as core elements of community based practice.
- Describe educational structure and institutional resources relevant to the Community Based Initiative and National Community Scholars program.
- Develop familiarity with community issues and change efforts currently occurring in Detroit, MI.
- Identify issues of race, gender, class, and other diversity dimensions relevant to various constructions of community

Seminar Design:

We will make use of mini-lectures, discussion, small group exercises, field trips, and media regarding the issues covered in this seminar. This seminar is designed to maximize student participation and community building.

Relationship of the Seminar to Four Curricular Themes:

Multiculturalism and Diversity will be addressed through emphasis on community participation and social well-being and community participation of populations and groups that have been historically subject to discrimination, injustice, and oppression.

Social Justice and Social Change will be assessed in terms of core concepts and alternative concepts of community organization. Methods of practice will be analyzed in accordance with justice and change as core concepts.

Promotion, Prevention, Treatment, and Rehabilitation will be discussed in terms of practice initiatives and their interrelationships.

Behavioral and Social Science Research. This seminar will introduce elements of the knowledge base from a critical perspective.

Social Work Ethics and Values. Discussion of ethical issues will draw upon the NASW Code of Ethics and other professional sources in relation to privilege, power, oppression, diversity, discrimination, justice and participation.

Relationship to PODS Content: Privilege, Oppression, Diversity, and Social Justice

Oppression, Diversity and Social Justice (PODS) will be considered as curricular themes through class activities and assignments.

PODS refers to six competencies:

- 1) Vision of and skills for social justice,
- 2) Reducing oppression and Privilege as barriers,
- 3) Intersectional and Intercultural skills,
- 4) Monitor PODS development and application,
- 5) Critical consciousness, self knowledge for continued learning,
- 6) Moving Beyond Intersectionality and economic class, age, ethnicity, race, gender, sexual orientation, religion and disability status.

Readings:

All readings are posted to Canvas in the Files section

Seminar Grades and Assignments

Class Blog:

We will use the google Blogger (sw622fall2016.blogspot.com (<http://sw622fall2016.blogspot.com>)) to create a blog for our course. This is a private blog, only visible to members of our class. Each student must post 2 - 3 paragraphs each week to the blog. The blog posting should relate to your experience in the class, the assigned readings, and other related topics. In weeks 1 and 5 I will post specific prompts for you to address in the blog, in weeks 2 - 4 you can post what you wish. I encourage you to include visual components to your postings such as photography, video, drawing, etc. Each student should also post comments to at least two other students' postings on a weekly basis.

You can get up to 8 points for making a weekly blog post and 4 points for commenting on to or more other students' posts each week. (60 points total)

Active engagement in class discussions and presentations. Specifically:

1. Attend all class sessions, unless excused (5 points)
2. Read all assigned assigned articles available via CANVAS and develop discussion questions (<https://umich.instructure.com/courses/106944/pages/class-discussion-roles>) based on the role you are assigned for that week;
3. Post 2-3 discussion questions for the readings assigned in weeks 2 & 3, based on your discussion role (<https://umich.instructure.com/courses/106944/pages/class-discussion-roles>). Upload questions to CANVAS by 5pm the Tuesday afternoon before the class in which we discuss the articles; (10 points per week; 30 points total)
4. Bring to each class those articles and the consolidated question list uploaded to CANVAS the previous day;
5. Complete the self evaluation of class participation form (<https://qoo.gl/forms/HRBAY1bu57sifR1z2>) and submit it on or before the due date. (5 points)
