Pandemic Statement:

You are in the MSW program during 2 major pandemics – Covid-19 and the long-standing pandemic of racism and oppression. I hope we will strive to treat ourselves and each other with compassion and grace, while also encouraging our collective growth. There will be glitches along the way. The course outline is my best attempt to help you predict what the class holds in store for you.

Course Description

Understanding the implications of early relationships on adult functioning can assist in providing adult psychotherapy in ways that can assist to repair individuals’ capacity to form and maintain healthy adult relationships. Using attachment theory as the foundation, this course will address relationship-based interventions in interpersonal practice with adults.

Course Objectives

Students will understand:

- The theoretical construct of attachment patterns
- The clinical correlates of adolescent and adult attachment organization
How to use an understanding of the dynamics of attachment to inform clinical thinking and intervention

Attention to Diversity and Anti-Racist/Anti-Oppressive Practice

Attending to equity, inclusion, race, power, privilege, and oppression is crucial to understanding how societal inequities impact infants and young children. We will attempt to understand our own lenses, and how they shape what we see and don't see, ask and don't ask, consider and don't consider. I do my best to carefully curate readings to help us see and hear a variety of voices. It is my hope to co-create, with you, an atmosphere of curiosity, humility, and openness when we hold small and large group discussions of the readings and asynchronous and synchronous material. Additionally, if you find materials that you think would be helpful for the class, please send them to me so I can post them! Finally, I welcome the opportunity to grow and learn. If I fail to address a topic, or say something insensitive, please let me know. We are all learning and growing together.

They include:

· Safety and emergency preparedness
· Mental health and well-being
· Teaching evaluations
· Proper use of names and pronouns
Credit Hour Expectations

The United States Department of Education requires that academic institutions develop a written credit hour policy that conforms to the definition of a credit hour. More recently the University of Michigan has instructed us that our School must create such a policy. The School of Social Work definition of a credit hour formalizes compliance with federal expectations and assists with consistency through the School of Social Work. As such, the School of Social Work utilizes a ratio of one hour of classroom instruction to two hours of out-of-class activity. Specifically: One credit is equal to approximately 45 hours of total work over the semester.
