

John F. Longres Award in Psychology or Sociology 2023-2024

I. Purpose and Eligibility

This award provides an annual scholarship to one or more doctoral students who are joint with Psychology or Sociology in the School of Social Work. This award is to be given to a doctoral student whose research focuses on social psychological issues as they relate to social work practice with individuals, families, groups, communities, organizations, or policy.

Note: students will not be eligible for this award if they received a Meyer, Curtis or Kellogg Scholarship within the same year. In addition, students are not eligible to receive the same award more than once during their time in the Joint Doctoral Program.

II. Form of Support

For 2023-2024, a $9,000 award will be made to one doctoral student in the form of stipend support.

III. Application Materials

The following application materials are required:

1. Application coversheet
2. One page letter describing the nature and focus of your research on social psychological issues as they relate to social work practice with individuals families, groups, communities, organizations or policy.
3. One to three pages:
  - i. Describe your research goals for next five years.
  - ii. Describe, if carried out, how your research goals will make an original contribution to social work practice with individuals families, groups, communities, organizations or policy.
  - iii. Describe, if carried out, what the likely research/theory/policy implications (all that apply) of your research will be for this area.
4. Letter of support from a faculty member
5. Curricula Vitae

I. Review Process

The Doctoral Committee will evaluate the application materials.

It is anticipated that the review and decision-making will occur in February.
