

W.K. Kellogg Family Endowed Fellowship 2024-2025

I. Purpose and Eligibility

This note announces an award available to new and continuing students in the Joint Interdisciplinary Doctoral Program. It was established by the W.K. Kellogg foundation along with matching funds provided by the Ann and Robert Lurie Family Foundation. Recipients will be known as W.K. Kellogg Family Fellows in Children and Families. Up to three awards will be made. To be eligible for the award, a student must be in good academic standing. It is awarded to students with a research interest in advancing the understanding of issues relevant to improving the well-being of children, youth, and their families. Students receiving the Kellogg Award may also receive the Meyer Award, but not the Curtis Scholarship in the same year.

II. Form of Support

For 2024-2025, a $45,000 award (total) will be split among the recipients.

III. Application Materials

The following application materials are required:

1. Application coversheet
2. One page letter describing the nature and focus of your interests on children and families and how you plan to contribute to the advancement of these areas in the future
3. Letter of support from a faculty member (you may use the same letter for multiple SW awards)
4. Curricula Vitae

IV. Review Process

The Doctoral Committee will evaluate the application materials. The criterion they will use is the extent to which the students' past work, current Doctoral studies, research plans on future career goals are likely to contribute to the advancement of the study of children and families.

It is anticipated that the review and decision-making will occur at the beginning of November.
