Announcement for
Full-Time, Tenure Eligible, Faculty Position at the Rank Associate/Full Professor

The North Carolina State University Department of Social Work invites applications for tenure-eligible at the rank of Associate or Full professor position, beginning August 16, 2018. Primary teaching areas are research and social work practice for the BSW program. Additional faculty responsibilities include regular advising of students, curriculum and program development, distinguished achievement in teaching & mentoring, research & scholarship, service, and engagement, national and university service, as well as, community engagement.

Minimum qualifications: A doctorate in social work or a related discipline completed as of the date of application, MSW degree from a CSWE-accredited program, with 2 years of post-MSW practice experience; a national reputation and demonstrated ability to teach social work courses and engage in scholarly research; excellent written and oral communication skills; ability to work collaboratively with colleagues; established reputation in the individual’s profession or field of scholarship. We are particularly interested in candidates who have experience working with students from diverse backgrounds and a demonstrated commitment to improving access to higher education for students from underrepresented groups. Higher rank (associate and full professor) requires an established national reputation, demonstrated record of extramural funding and scholarly publications in peer-review journals.

Preferred qualifications: Demonstrated ability and willingness to participate in and provide leadership to the department, college, university, and professional organizations; A well-explicated research agenda, including evidence of, or potential for, funded research; experience teaching social work practice courses.
