THE HONG KONG POLYTECHNIC UNIVERSITY

DEPARTMENT OF APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCES

Post Specification

Professor / Associate Professor / Assistant Professor in Social Work (several posts)
(Ref. 17080109)

As one of the largest social sciences departments in the Asian Pacific region, the Department of Applied Social Sciences offers research degrees at MPhil and PhD levels as well as taught programmes at undergraduate and postgraduate levels in various disciplines. To further strengthen our academic team, we are recruiting faculty members at Professor / Associate Professor / Assistant Professor levels in the discipline of Social Work, particularly in the areas related to child and family, youth, older people, people with disabilities and health issues, and addiction.

The Department is home to many thriving research and practice units: Centre for Children with Specific Learning Disabilities, Centre for Social Policy Studies, Centre for Third Sector Studies, Child Development Centre, China Research and Development Network, Network for Health and Social Welfare, and Professional Practice and Assessment Centre. It is also strongly connected with the Institute of Active Ageing of the Faculty of Health and Social Sciences and other health related disciplines. They provide platforms for collaborative research, practice projects, and policy discussions with government departments and NGOs. Focused areas of research in the Department include but not limited to: (a) family, child, youth and ageing studies; (b) psychology, mental health, and health; (c) social work and human service management; (d) social policy, social welfare, and community development; and (e) social theory, and the Chinese mainland and global social development.

Please visit the website at http://www.polyu.edu.hk/apss/ for more information about the Department. Applicants are invited to contact Professor Daniel W.L. Lai, Head of Department of Applied Social Sciences by email at d.lai@polyu.edu.hk for further information about the posts.
