Field Education Director
School of Social Work – West Virginia University
Job Number: 07551

The West Virginia University School of Social Work seeks a Field Education Director, responsible for the overall administration of the School of Social Work undergraduate and graduate field education programs. The position is a twelve-month full-time non-tenure track renewable position that reports to the School of Social Work Director. The academic rank will depend on the successful candidate’s level of graduate education. The position reports to the Director of the School of Social Work.

The Field Director is responsible for the educational and administrative direction of the field education program in compliance with CSWE accreditation standards, including coordinating internships, cultivating new field sites, developing field assessment practices, and collaborating with School of Social Work, University, and professional community stakeholders.

The WVU School of Social Work is fully accredited by the Council on Social Work Education and enrolls approximately 350 students at the undergraduate and graduate levels. WVU is a research land grant university located within 90 minutes of Pittsburgh and 3.5 hours from the Washington/Baltimore area. Morgantown has been recognized as one of the most livable small cities in the U.S. There are extensive recreational opportunities and a supportive environment in which to develop a visible and productive career. For more information about the WVU School of Social Work, please visit our website at http://socialwork.wvu.edu.

Qualifications

- MSW degree from a CSWE-accredited institution is required and would allow appointment at the rank of Clinical Instructor. Candidates with a doctoral degree in social work or a related field from a regionally accredited university are eligible for the rank of Clinical Assistant Professor. Five or more years of post-MSW professional social work practice experience is required.
- Excellent written communication skills.
- Excellent interpersonal skills and a commitment to collaborate productively with colleagues and students.
- Technology proficiency.

To Apply

Visit jobs.wvu.edu, navigate to the position title, and submit (as a single PDF document) a) a letter of application outlining your interest in the position and academic and administrative experience; b) vita/resume; and c) contact information for at least three references. Applications will be processed until the position is filled, but those received by February 28 will receive priority consideration. For further information, contact Dr. Deana Morrow, Director School of Social Work, at Deana.Morrow@mail.wvu.edu.

West Virginia University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and the recipient of an NSF ADVANCE award for gender equity. The University values diversity among its faculty, staff, and students, and invites applications from all qualified individuals, including minorities, females, individuals with disabilities, and veterans.