Tenure Track Assistant Professor Position Open at University of North Dakota-Substance Abuse #000141569

The University of North Dakota Social Work Department is seeking a tenure-tenure track faculty member with practice and research experience relevant to substance abuse/chemical addictions to carry out a robust research agenda, teach undergraduate and graduate courses, and contribute to the mission of the department, university, and profession through service activities. This individual will contribute to a productive and collegial academic team and develop and maintain positive and professional relationships with students. UND Social Work faculty teach in both our campus-based and online distance programs (BSSW and Advanced Generalist MSW). We offer the only MSW Program in the state and are committed to providing educational access to non-traditional students, especially those living in rural or remote areas.

In our rural state, our department has strong partnerships with related disciplines within the university, and with local and state human service agencies. Our department houses the state’s Children and Family Services Training Center. We are also strongly committed to partnerships with our state’s Tribal communities. Many exciting opportunities for individuals interested in pursuing a substance abuse/addictions-related research trajectory are possible in our department of 25 caring and committed faculty and staff.

UND is a public research university that houses the state’s only medical and law schools. Founded in 1883 with a strong liberal arts foundation, UND has grown into a prominent scientific research university, classified by the Carnegie Foundation as having high research activity. UND was recently ranked among the top 100 public and top 25 most innovative universities in the country by U.S. News and World Report, and is widely regarded as among the top universities in the American Northern Plains region. Currently, the University boasts 200+ fields of study with nearly 15,000 students.

UND is located in Grand Forks, North Dakota, a vibrant college town of over 50,000 people located on the border of North Dakota and Minnesota. Grand Forks boasts high-quality medical facilities, a very low crime rate, many fine restaurants, acclaimed public and private schools, and annual events throughout the year. Ranked as one of the top 5 Best Small College Towns, and America’s Best Hockey Town, Grand Forks offers great quality of life without the metropolitan hassles.

Minimum Requirements/Qualifications:
- Master’s Degree in Social Work from a CSWE-accredited program.
- Doctoral degree in social work or a related field (or ABD candidates may also be considered).
- Ability to obtain a social work license in North Dakota.
- Evidence of scholarly productivity in substance abuse/chemical addictions.

Preferred Skills/Desired Qualifications:
- Possess a doctorate in Social Work.
- A minimum of two year’s post-MSW social work practice experience (as described in in accreditation standards in order to qualify for teaching practice courses).
- Practice experience with American Indian and/or rural communities.

To Apply: For full consideration, please submit a letter of interest, current vita, and three references (names, phone numbers, e-mail and postal addresses by April 18. Position will remain open until filled. Any inquiries can be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Dr. Dheeshana Jayasundara, at dheeshana.jayasundara@und.edu.

Review of applications will begin April 1, 2018, and continue until the position is filled.

For more details, visit: www.und.edu/employment

The University of North Dakota is an AA/EEO/Vets/Disables Employer.
Tenure Track Assistant Professor Position Open at University of North Dakota- Child Welfare #00013838

The University of North Dakota Social Work Department is seeking an Assistant Professor faculty member (tenure track, 9-month contract) with practice and research experience relevant to child welfare to carry out a robust research agenda, teach undergraduate and graduate courses, and contribute to the mission of the department, university, and profession through service activities. UND Social Work faculty teach in both our campus-based and online distance programs (BSSW and Advanced Generalist MSW). We offer the only MSW Program in the state and are committed to providing educational access to non-traditional students, especially those living in rural or remote areas.

In our rural state, our department has strong partnerships with the state Division of Children and Family Services and houses its training arm, the Children and Family Services Training Center. Our department is also strongly committed to partnerships with our state’s Tribal communities. Many exciting opportunities for individuals interested in pursuing child welfare/child and family well-being research trajectories are possible in our department of 25 caring and committed faculty and staff.

UND is a public research university. Founded in 1883 with a strong liberal arts foundation, UND has grown into a prominent scientific research university, classified by the Carnegie Foundation as having high research activity. UND was recently ranked among the top 100 public and top 25 most innovative universities in the country by U.S. News and World Report, and is widely regarded as among the top universities in the American Northern Plains region. Currently, the University boasts 200+ fields of study with nearly 15,000 students.

UND is located in Grand Forks, North Dakota, a vibrant college town of over 50,000 people located on the border of North Dakota and Minnesota. Grand Forks boasts high-quality medical facilities, a very low crime rate, many fine restaurants, acclaimed public and private schools, and annual events throughout the year. Ranked as one of the top 5 Best Small College Towns, and America’s Best Hockey Town, Grand Forks offers great quality of life without the metropolitan hassles.

Minimum Requirements/Qualifications:
- Master’s Degree in Social Work from a CSWE-accredited program.
- Doctoral degree in social work or a related field (or ABD candidates may also be considered).
- Ability to obtain a social work license in North Dakota.
- Evidence of scholarly productivity in child welfare/child and family well-being.

Preferred Skills/Desired Qualifications:
- Possess a doctorate in Social Work.
- A minimum of two year’s post-MSW social work practice experience (as described in in accreditation standards in order to qualify for teaching practice courses).
- Practice experience with American Indian and/or rural communities.

To Apply: For full consideration, please submit a letter of interest, current vita, and three references (names, phone numbers, e-mail and postal addresses by April 18. Position will remain open until filled. Any inquiries can be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Dr. Dheeshana Jayasundara, at dheeshana.jayasundar@und.edu.

Review of applications will begin April 18, 2018, and continue until the position is filled.

For more details, visit: www.und.edu/employment

The University of North Dakota is an AA/EEO/Vets/Disables Employer.