Search for Two Tenure-Track Assistant Professor Positions
Phyllis and Harvey Sandler School of Social Work at Florida Atlantic University

The Phyllis and Harvey Sandler School of Social Work at Florida Atlantic University welcomes applications for two tenure-track positions at the rank of Assistant Professor, with a start date of August 2018.

Our school has approximately 580 Bachelor of Social Work students (the largest BSW program in Florida) and 261 Master of Social Work students. Our Doctor of Social Work program opened in August 2016. We currently have 16 doctoral students. Our school was recently named in honor of Phyllis and Harvey Sandler, two very strong supporters of our programs. Their generous gift will be utilized to support the growth of academic programs, certificates, and research centers (including the Substance Abuse, Mental Health and Recovery Research Center and the Robin Rubin Mindfulness and Wellness Center).

We are particularly interested in applicants with teaching and research experience in the following areas: advanced clinical social work (particularly families or groups), clinical research, neuroscience, addictions, military social work, mental health, trauma, dementia, race, immigration, and social justice. We are looking for dedicated social work educators who aspire to excellence in teaching, research, and service. Applicants should be prepared for teaching at the DSW level and be prepared to mentor DSW students in their clinical capstone projects. Applicants will also teach at the BSW and MSW levels.

Applicants must possess the following qualifications:

- DSW, PhD in Social Work, or earned doctorate in a closely related field (all-but-dissertation doctoral students who are close to completion will be considered)
- MSW from an accredited school of social work, and a minimum two years post-MSW clinical practice experience
- Commitment to social work values, including service, integrity, and social justice
- Demonstrated teaching, research, and scholarship skills and beginning record of scholarly publications
- Capacity for developing funded research
- Collegial attitude and interest in collaborating with social workers and allied professionals
Special Instructions to applicants:

Recruitment Committee members will be interviewing interested applicants at the Council on Social Work Education Annual Program Meeting in Dallas from October 19 to 21, 2017. Other applicants may be contacted for interviews via teleconference or on campus. To be considered for an interview, please email your cover letter and curriculum vitae to Dr. Allan Barsky (Chair of the Recruitment Committee) at abarsky@fau.edu.

The salary for this position is competitive. Hiring for these positions is conditional upon final approval of funding. Prior to on-campus interviews, candidates will be asked to submit their applications online via an FAU website to be distributed at that time (including the cover letter, curriculum vitae, and transcripts). A background check will be required for the candidate selected for this position. If you are an individual with a disability requiring accommodation, please call 561-297-3057.
Search for an Associate Professor Position
Florida Atlantic University Phyllis and Harvey Sandler School of Social Work

The Phyllis and Harvey Sandler School of Social Work at Florida Atlantic University welcomes applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Associate Professor, with a start date of August 2018.

Our school has approximately 580 Bachelor of Social Work students (the largest BSW program in Florida) and 261 Master of Social Work students. Our Doctor of Social Work program opened in August 2016. We currently have 16 doctoral students. Our school was recently named in honor of Phyllis and Harvey Sandler, two very strong supporters of our programs. Their generous gift will be utilized to support the growth of academic programs, certificates, and research centers (including the Substance Abuse, Mental Health and Recovery Research Center and the Robin Rubin Mindfulness and Wellness Center).

We are particularly interested in applicants with teaching and research experience in the following areas: advanced clinical social work (particularly families or groups), clinical research, neuroscience, addictions, military social work, mental health, trauma, dementia, race, immigration, and social justice. We are looking for dedicated social work educators who aspire to excellence in teaching, research, and service. Applicants should be prepared for teaching at the DSW level and be prepared to mentor DSW students in their clinical capstone projects. Applicants will also teach at the BSW and MSW levels. Candidates should be able to secure extramural research funding, including potential for junior faculty mentoring and center grants. In addition, applicants should demonstrate success as a productive scholar as evidenced by strong record of publications in top-tier journals in social work and related fields.

Applicants must possess the following qualifications:

- DSW, PhD in Social Work, or earned doctorate in a closely related field
- MSW from an accredited school of social work, and a minimum two years post-MSW clinical practice experience
- Commitment to social work values, including service, integrity, and social justice
- Demonstrated teaching, research, mentorship, leadership, and scholarship skills
- Strong record of scholarly publications and funded research
- Collegial attitude and interest in collaborating with social workers and allied professionals
Special Instructions to applicants:

Recruitment Committee members will be interviewing interested applicants at the Council on Social Work Education Annual Program Meeting in Dallas from October 19 to 21, 2017. Other applicants may be contacted for interviews via teleconference or on campus. To be considered for an interview, please email your cover letter and curriculum vitae to Dr. Allan Barsky (Chair of the Recruitment Committee) at abarsky@fau.edu.

The salary for this position is competitive. Hiring for these positions is conditional upon final approval of funding. Prior to on-campus interviews, candidates will be asked to submit their applications online via an FAU website to be distributed at that time (including the cover letter, curriculum vitae, and transcripts). A background check will be required for the candidate selected for this position. If you are an individual with a disability requiring accommodation, please call 561-297-3057.