The University of Georgia’s School of Social Work invites applications for one non-tenure track Clinical Assistant Professor position. We are seeking dynamic candidates to teach advanced and foundational social work courses, particularly to teach human behavior in the social environment and advanced clinical practice with individuals. The candidate will also participate in the life of the School through service activities. The person who fills this position will teach in the School’s Athens full-time MSW Program and the online MSW program, and may teach occasionally in the extended evening and weekend program at the Gwinnett Campus. In addition, the person who fills this position will provide faculty advisement to the students of the online MSW program.

The School and Institution
Chartered in 1785, the University of Georgia in Athens is a Carnegie RU/VH university, and the state’s flagship institution of higher education. The School of Social Work provides professional education to over 700 students through its CSWE–accredited B.S.W. and M.S.W. programs, Ph.D. program, as well as the Master of Nonprofit Management and Leadership. The School of Social Work also offers joint M.S.W. degree programs with the School of Law, the College of Public Health, and the Emory University Candler School of Theology. The School of Social Work is nationally and internationally known for excellence in research, teaching, public service, international programs, and a commitment to social and economic justice.

The Individuals
Applicants must have an MSW degree, at least five years of full-time post-MSW practice experience; a PhD or DSW in social work is preferred. It is highly desirable that applicants have a broad range of social work practice experience, grounded in the social work principle of social justice. Applicants should be able to demonstrate familiarity with, and evidence of, implementation of evidence-informed interventions in their work. Applicants with one or more years of teaching experience in higher education are preferred. We expect successful candidates to share our commitment to diversity and social justice.

Nominations and Applications
Application materials must be submitted through UGA FacultyJobs system https://hr.uga.edu/applicants/uga-staff-vacancies/. Applicants should upload an application letter that includes a discussion of teaching philosophy and a curriculum vitae. Three letters of reference addressed to the University of Georgia, School of Social Work, Faculty Search Committee will be required at the time of interview. Review of applications will begin immediately, and will be accepted until the position is filled. Questions should be routed to Ms. Kerri Lewis, at klewis42@uga.edu. Please note “Clinical Faculty Search” in the subject line.

The University of Georgia is an affirmative action/equal opportunity institution. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, gender identity, sexual orientation or protected veteran status.
